

Absolute awarded its employees on its 28th annual gathering

Kindly click on the video to view the highlights of the get together.

As rightly said by someone, "The best way to encourage a person is by appreciating their great work and toasting their accomplishments when possible". We at Absolute follow this quote and every year for the past 28 years during Christmas we organise an annual employee gathering. This allows us to reward our employees who have done great work during the year and met the standards in their areas defined by the company. Apart from this, we also felicitated the staff members who have completed 5 years and 10 years in the organisation. The gathering was attended by around 300 people (our employees along with their family members). The family members enjoyed various fun activities like tambola, musical chairs, family games and some children were even awarded for showcasing their talent in singing and dancing.

Know The Process

Absolute introduces customised videos of client requirements to train its guards and housekeeping staff

We have been creating Post Duty Manuals (PDMs) for our clients specific to their requirements. With experience we have also learnt that with only reading the instructions given in the PDM, the guard or the housekeeping staff may or may not understand the requirements demanded. Hence, we at Absolute have a process of creating videos specific to client requirements to ensure the commitments are fulfilled with extreme care. This customised video based training is done for complex sites at a reasonable cost. This is done to ensure that the guard or the housekeeping staff will not only listen to the instructions carefully but the visuals will also leave a greater impact on them. We create videos for concerns like operating a DG, operating a fire extinguisher etc. This would be a more effective way to train the staff and all of this is done to provide you with excellent services and ensure client satisfaction.
