Absolute awarded its employees on its 29th annual gathering

As rightly said by someone, "The best way to encourage a person is by appreciating their great work and toasting their accomplishments when possible". We at Absolute follow this quote and every year for the past 29 years during Christmas we organise an annual employee gathering. This allows us to reward our employees who have done great work during the year and met the standards in their areas defined by the company. Apart from this, we also felicitated the staff members who have completed 5 years and 10 years in the organisation. The gathering was attended by around 300 people including our employees along with their family members. The family members enjoyed various fun activities like tambola, musical chairs, family games and some children were even awarded for showcasing their talent in singing and dancing.

Audit of Registers at your premises

We at Absolute have been checking and auditing the registers on a monthly basis kept at the client's premises. All the registers maintained by the guard at your premises are checked by the field officer and mistakes if any are corrected and brought to the notice of the concerned person. The concerned person declares to Absolute that all registers are being maintained properly. Subsequently an auditor from our company does a sample audit and reports the findings directly to the top management of our company. We also send you a monthly report to this effect. We hope to completely eliminate any errors in the registers maintained at your premises.
